A heartfelt thank you to Tearing Up the Turf for Timothy, for sending us to the Assistive Technology Industry Association conference (ATIA) in Orlando, Florida. What a treat! It was truly the best conference we have attended all school year and we learned so much. Being at ATIA allowed us to talk and meet with professionals in the field of assistive technology from all over the country. It also allowed us to see the most recent technology available, view cutting-edge research and see current testing being done in the field. We were able to make connections with representatives from assistive technology companies and professionals in the field. Since the conference, we have been able to share many new ideas we learned with our colleagues and even implement some of them. Thank you so much for this wonderful opportunity and for believing in the value of education.

Many thanks for your support!

Sincerely,
